

Daniel Hurd Associates

Daniel Hurd Associates is a progressive, award-winning architectural practice, based in Birmingham. To facilitate their move to new premises in the Jewellery Quarter, they called in Abussi to take care of all the IT-related aspects of the project. Early involvement enabled us to install CAT5 cable to the new office at "first fix" stage, working with our specialist cabling partner. We also managed the complete telecoms installation, with ISDN and PSTN lines being installed by Abussi's telecom line partner, and the internal telephone system being installed by Abussi's phone system partner. Finally, we were able to activate Broadband well in advance so that downtime was kept to a minimum.

Careful preparation, logical planning, having cabling in place and familiarity with the client's IT equipment meant that we were able to transfer and reconfigure all the hardware in a single day, with minimal disruption and everything managed as a seamless process. The end result - everything was up and running again the next day after the move.

Abussi added value to Daniel Hurd Associates by:

- Ensuring that the new office was pre-prepared with network cable and connectivity services
- Providing a single point of contact for all IT and telecoms works
- Removing the management of the tasks from the Managing Director
- Ensuring all vital services were in place ahead of time for testing prior to the office relocation
